Raptor Education

NOTES FROM THE NEST

WINTER 2023

Happy Holidays to All Raptor Lovers!

Another year has flown by and can you believe that the holidays are just ahead?

This time of year has us reflecting on our blessings. We are grateful for the wonderful volunteers who help us keep our education raptors clean and healthy. We cannot say thank you enough to our fabulous donors and sponsors for their financial support.

We are very grateful to the many locations that ask Sky Hunters to come and speak about raptors — the native hawks, eagles, falcons and owls that share our world. We were excited to bring our barn owl, kestrel, and screech owl to a Wildfire Safety Fair, a public information event sponsored by San Diego Gas and Electric. People learned how to be more wildfire safe, and also got to see our education birds up close and get to know more about their adaptations and skills.

Sky Hunter's focus remains on educating the public about these beautiful and important birds, and on how people can help to ensure raptors are protected and healthy in the wild.

We hope that you and your families enjoy wonderful times together this holiday season! Wishing each of you all the best in the new year!

Blessings, Nancy and John
